

ROBERT HOBL

AUSTRIA

I just got up. I think sleeping too much is exhausting. Where I live is very quite. But only because I have been sleeping in my sister's room, while she is working in U.S.A. The reason why now I don't have a room is because of my work, my recent work. I am a cruise photographer, so I have travelled quite a bit. So I stay here for four months and then I embark, this is why all my stuff is piled up, in boxes and more boxes. When I came to Peru on september last year, was really different from what I pictured. Maybe because I compared it to some cities of Europe which were cleaner and tidier than here. I was supposed to embark on jameary but I couldn't so I am waiting for april. But well, when I came even the smell of the air changed. Lima's humidity is extreme. You breathe water, I get sick very often here, while in Europe not. Here I felt the urge to keep travelling this is why on december I finally went to Cusco and finally see all the wonders.
